MOSCOW IS SILENT ON HULL WARNING AGAINST MEDDLING

Soviet Government Apparently Content To Stand on Original Reply to U. S. as Final Statement of Russian Policy.

CONGRESS OF REDS BROUGHT TO CLOSE

Washington Meanwhile Declines Further Comment on Statement by State Department.

MOSCOW, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Soviet officials were silent today concerning Secretary of State Hull's statement that future friendly relations between the United States and the Soviet Union depended on strict adherence by the Soviets to their non-interference pledge.

The officials said that the statement had not been brought formally to their attention, and that they were standing meanwhile on the original answer to the United States protest against interference in its internal affairs as a final statement of Soviet policy.

That answer put the Soviet government on record as refusing to assume responsibility for the actions of the communists (internationalists), the activities of which prompted the protest.

Recurrence improbable. The communist congress has ended, however, and observers pointed out that it may be years before another situation of this kind is brought on and a new protest arises.

Many thousands of young communist workers and athletes paraded through Red Square today in celebration of international youth day.

The youths were reviewed by government heads standing at the tomb of Lenin.

Gil Green, head of the communist youth organization in the United States and a delegate to the recent communist congress, made public an article in the newspapers Consomol and Pravda asserting that millions of American youths are engaged in a movement against fascism and war.

Cites Power Growth. "We will prove that there is no great gap between words and action," his article said.

Green said a youth congress at Detroit last July gave evidence that communist organizations are growing in power in the United States.

U. S. SOVIET FUTURE HINGES UPON REACTION. WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—(AP)—The future of friendly relations between the United States and Soviet Russia hinged today "upon the attitude and action of the Soviet government."

In effect, Moscow was put "on trial" by Secretary Hull's sharply worded statement demanding strict observance of the Soviet government's non-interference pledge last "friendly."

Police Kill Bandit In Holdup 'Ambush'

MONTICELLO, N. Y., Sept. 1.—(AP)—State police and an undersheriff today surprised eight bandits holding up 20 trouperless patrons of the Farm Rest, a roadside on the Monticello-Liberty road, and killed George "Fat" Spivey, 30, a bandit, when he ignored their command to halt.

Eight other men fleeing the roadside were captured by a state police cordon posted outside and are held in the Sullivan county jail here on charges of robbery.

Talmadge Calls Smith 'Good Man' For 1936 Presidential Candidate

Georgia Governor Beams Modestly When His Own Hat Is Nudged Toward Campaign Ring by Aide in Chicago Interview on "Possibilities."

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Governor Talmadge, of Georgia, New Deal foe, discussed early today the qualifications of six "possibilities" for the democratic presidential nomination and beamed modestly when an aid nudged his own hat toward the 1936 campaign ring.

Of the six he said: "President Roosevelt — absolutely and completely no."
"Huey Long—the lesser of two evils."

"Alfred E. Smith—don't know much about him, but he was raised like Abraham Lincoln from poor folks, a good man."

"William G. McAdoo—not familiar with him, either. But seems to be all right."

"Governor Joseph Ely, of Massachusetts—a very good man."

"Vice President Garner—he let his wife have too much money on the public pay roll."

"Governor Talmadge—he hesitated."

"There's the man the country needs," enthusiastically asserted his companion, Colonel John E. "Taxi" Whitley, of LaGrange, Ga., a member of the Governor's staff. "He'll make a good president."

"He's done in Georgia, what the national administration promised to do, but didn't," said Whitley. "He's cut taxes."

"Yes," Talmadge agreed. "I've done that, and that's what the country must do."

"What the democratic party needs," Talmadge took up the conversation again, "is to get away from the 'gim-me' men. Roosevelt's one. So's Huey Long."

Then he swung into a favorite theme, the federal $4,800,000,000 works fund.

"The next presidential nominee of the democratic party will be the man who can stand up to Jim Farley and the $5,000,000,000 'slush' fund, and say: 'No, thanks.'"

He asserted he was one who could. Talmadge said, that if he should win the democratic nomination next year:

"I'm going to have advisers who never went beyond the eighth grade—no college professors!"

The Governor's party led here for Sioux Falls, S. D., where he is to deliver a Labor Day address.

HURRICANE NEARS STATE SEeks LOAN FOR POWER PLANT

Storm Warnings Posted Along Lower Coast as Vera Cruz Port Closes.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 1.—(AP)—A tropical disturbance believed to have hurricane winds near the center moved across the Great Bahamas Banks westward toward Havana, Cuba, and the Florida straits tonight.

Vessels in the straits were advised by the Weather Bureau to exercise caution during the next 36 hours as northeast storm warnings flew along the lower Florida coast from Miami around to Fort Myers.

Gordon E. Dunn, meteorologist at the Weather Bureau office here, said the area in the vicinity of Key West probably would feel "a pretty stiff blow" but the center hurricane winds likely would pass some distance to the south of the Florida keys.

Coastline Safe Now. He said no part of the Florida coastline was in immediate danger. Over in the Gulf of Mexico another disturbance described as "moderate" and "attended by strong shifting winds and gales" moved westward toward Vera Cruz, Mexico.

Rising barometers tonight indicated a hurricane against which residents had been warned had changed its course and would strike late tonight or early tomorrow.

Earlier police had gone from door to door warning householders the hurricane would strike late tonight or early tomorrow.

ATLANTA TO HONOR LABOR'S 'DAY OFF' AS HOLIDAY CROWD BY TOTAL HOLIDAY

Thousands To March in Big Parade Through Downtown Area; Speaking Program To Be Held.

Atlanta labor will turn out today in full regalia for the celebration of Labor Day, while factories, stores and other enterprises of the city shut down to join with employees in their annual celebration.

Observance of the holiday will take the usual pattern, with parades, athletic contests, oratory, picnics and the warning of the police department to "drive carefully."

The official celebration will swing into action with a parade through the downtown section beginning at 10:30 o'clock moving from the state capital on Mitchell street, swinging north on Whitehall and Peachtree street to Baker, thence westward to Spring street, where the marching groups will disband.

Russell To Speak. At Grant Park United States Senator Richard B. Russell Jr. and Congressman Robert Ramspeck will head the orators' program, their speeches following a series of athletic contests.

Last night special religious services were conducted on the capitol lawn at 8 o'clock. Dr. W. A. Shelton, president of the Christian church, presided and Major Vincent Cunningham, editor of the Salvation Army "War Cry," delivered the address.

Dr. W. H. Knight also honored labor in a special Labor Day sermon delivered at the regular services of the Baptist Tabernacle.

The programs of the official celebration of the day are in charge of the Georgia Federation of Labor and the Atlanta Federation of Trades. Their committees have been at work for weeks preparing plans for the observance of labor's annual holiday.

Colorful floats will depict typical movements in labor and industry. Final touches were being placed on these floats yesterday in preparation for the big event this morning.

A pre-holiday clam hung over the city.

P. O. OFFICIALS FLY ASTRID'S PARENTS HERE FOR MEETING

National Federation of Postal Clerks Open 3-Day Convention in City.

With two high officials of the post-office department arriving in Atlanta yesterday by plane and another important executive expected today, the national convention of the Federation of Post Office Clerks and Women's Auxiliary will get under way at 9 o'clock this morning when the reception of delegates and visitors will start at the Ansley hotel.

The distinguished visitors who flew to Atlanta yesterday were Vincent Burke, deputy to the first assistant postmaster-general, and Frank Ellis, assistant supervisor of postal service. The two men are special representatives of Postmaster-General James A. Farley, who was unable to attend the sessions, and are from Washington, D. C.

Lewis Fisher, civil service commissioner, will arrive in the city today from Washington.

The plane carrying Ellis and Burke was met at Candler field by Postmaster Leon Livingston, President Leo E. George, of the federation; W. E. Hyatt, legislative representative; Homer Smith, president of the Atlanta local of the federation; A. C. Lawrence, chairman of the convention commission, and Kirby C. Bell, member of the commission.

The Washington officials were expected to arrive in the city today from Washington.

13 Nudist Camp Peckers Arrested While 1,000 Peer But to No Avail

LONG VALLEY, N. J., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Thirteen peckers were arrested today when their curiosity led them over the boundaries of Will Seales' farm and into the property of the nudist camp next door.

State troopers on motorcycles pursued the peckers over hills and dunes before they finally caught them. Taken before Recorder George McKen of Washington township, the offenders, three women and ten men, were fined $2 each and $1 costs on trespassing charges.

Use Telescope Glasses. The peckers were part of a crowd of 1,000 persons who gathered on the Seales farm in the hope of catching a glimpse of a nudist. With opera glasses and small telescopes, they peered Turkish General in Command of Southern Army as It Awaits Beginning of Holy Strife in Defense of Menelik's Successor.

By PIERRE VAN PAASSEN. (Copyright, 1935, for The Constitution.) ADDIS ABABA, Sept. 1.—Row upon row of whippet tanks, armored cars and light artillery batteries in perfect alignment, beyond these enormous fields with gleaming white specks of combat aeroplanes and behind these again cities of tents and barracks up to the horizon is the impressive scene Ethiopian aerial observers behold on periodic reconnoitering flights 70 miles within Abyssinian territory on the strategic line occupied by the Italian army facing north from Somali land.

Nearly three hundred thousand men are in line waiting Il Duce's telegraphic word of command, "Avanti" (forward), which may come any hour since the decision was taken at Bolzano yesterday for immediate action in Africa in defiance of the whole world.

Await Advance Order. The order to advance is eagerly awaited by the entire army, it is reported. Italian officers depart for their units with the gay farewell: "Have coffee with me in Addis Ababa next week."

The southern army, which, it is no secret to anybody, has the important Ethiopian city of Harar as its immediate objective, is in perfect condition, ready to commence at any minute, night or day, to blast a bloody path with overwhelming technical superiority through the four hundred thousand massed black warriors who are accompanied by their women and children, eager to see what they think will be a repetition of the 1896 battle of Adowa, when an Italian expeditionary force under General Baratieri was annihilated by Menelik's tribesmen.

Still Governed by Adowa Memory. The memory of Adowa is poisoning the Ethiopian people's whole conception of the coming struggle. On the whole they have no idea of what modern warfare is and that Benito Mussolini's warfare is not the warfare of Crispì, premier of Italy in 1896. The Ethiopian commander on this front the former Turk, General Welhid Pasha, is confident the Italian death-dealing juggernaut can be brought to a halt by the vast masses of elementarily-equipped Ethiopians.

Il Duce's orders to the southern army, which, it is no secret to anybody, has the important Ethiopian city of Harar as its immediate objective, is in perfect condition, ready to commence at any minute, night or day, to blast a bloody path with overwhelming technical superiority through the four hundred thousand massed black warriors who are accompanied by their women and children, eager to see what they think will be a repetition of the 1896 battle of Adowa, when an Italian expeditionary force under General Baratieri was annihilated by Menelik's tribesmen.

NEW PROBE FAILS IN ICKES FATALITY

Conflicting Stories Cause Failure of Inquest as Body Is Sent to Chicago.

SANTA FE, N. M., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Spanish-American jurors who heard translated testimony returned an inquest verdict today describing the fatal injuries of Mrs. Harold L. Ickes, but without fixing responsibility for her puzzling motor car accident.

District Attorney David Chaves said conflicting accounts would be studied further and he would question the three survivors of last night's wreck north of Santa Fe as soon as their condition permitted.

The jury found Mrs. Ickes died from a fracture of the cervical vertebrae, a possible skull fracture "as the result of an automobile accident wherein the car in which the deceased was riding overturned."

While the jury's items selected from Espanola, an adobe studied settlement on the Rio Grande, listed an "old friend" who planned to be made to transport the body of Mrs. Ickes to Chicago by railroad.

Referred to the train, due in Chicago early Tuesday, by a detail of national guardsmen, the body of the wife of the Secretary of the Interior was attended also by Mrs. E. H. O'Leary, an old friend, who planned to make the entire journey.

The afternoon jury sitting was the second of the day. It heard both police investigators and a physician, Dr. Tobias Espinosa. Dr. Espinosa said Mrs. Ickes was dead when he examined her.

The grief-stricken mother, with her husband, Prince Carl, entered the funeral home accompanied by King Leopold, husband of the late queen.

The king was so overwhelmed by the demonstration that he appeared to be on the verge of breaking down. Princess Ingeborg turned from the violet-strewn bed to comfort him.

Prince Carl and Princess Ingeborg were among the royalty who arrived today for the funeral Tuesday of the ill-fated queen, whose accidental death in an automobile wreck has plunged the nation into grief.

Court mourning was decreed today for a period of six months, the first three months of which will be observed with full ceremony.

Many persons in a large crowd gathered at the railroad station west in sympathy for Ingeborg as, head bowed in sorrow, she walked to an automobile holding her husband's arm.

The party from Sweden included their son, Prince Carl, Princess Martha and Crown Prince Olaf, of Norway. They were met at the station by Prince Alex of Denmark, Prince

Drivers, Beware Today, Says Cobb

By IRVIN S. COBB. BARTSTOWN, Cal., Sept. 1.—This evening we skirted Death Valley, where, even when the temperature is 120, nobody dies but everybody would like to—and all of a sudden we realized that tomorrow (today to you, reader) reckless drivers would be spreading the inferno influence all over the land, weather permitting.

It is estimated the automobile death toll for Labor Day will be 400 killed and more than 10,000 hurt or crippled. We did that well last year, and this year, being a progressive people, we want to pile the mortality statistics even higher. When it comes to slaughtering human beings to make a holiday, the old Romans were pikers.

The figures are lacking, but if the truth were known, I'll bet not one person in a thousand driving at reckless speed is really in a hurry to get anywhere or will be needed by anybody for any useful purpose on arrival if he does arrive all in one piece.

I must be getting old. I'd rather be late for supper in this world to-night than on time for breakfast in some other world tomorrow morning. (Copyright, 1935, by North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

Emperor, in Detailed Interview, Can See No Reason Why England Should Protest Concessions to Standard Oil.

MOSCOW CHARGES ANGLO-U. S. ACCORD

Pope Pius Is Said Ready To Offer Services Direct to Il Duce for Aid in Settling Controversy.

By JAMES A. MILLS. (Copyright, 1935, by Associated Press.) ADDIS ABABA, Sept. 1.—Emperor Haile Selassie, citing Ethiopia's rights as a sovereign state, told the Associated Press today "surely the British government cannot interfere in a concession granted to the United States."

The Conquering Lion of Judah told this correspondent in an interview that he did not see why the concession granted to Americans should create international complications or involve the Anglo-Franco-Italian treaty of 1904.

"As a sovereign state, we have the right to do anything we please in our own territory," he asserted. "The United States is not a party to the 1906 treaty in which England, France and Italy merely pledged themselves to do nothing to encroach on the interests of others."

"That is one of the reasons I gave the concession to Standard Oil. As the agreement is already signed, sealed and delivered, I do not see how it can be recalled or such a thing is suggested by the British government."

"Surely the British government cannot interfere in a concession granted to the United States."

(Officials of the Standard Oil of New Jersey and of other Standard Oil units said they had no knowledge of the Ethiopian concession.)

The British foreign office announced yesterday at London that its minister to Ethiopia has been authorized

Prison Cornerstone Will Be Laid Today

REIDSVILLE, Ga., Sept. 1.—The cornerstones of the new million-and-a-half-dollar state prison, now under construction in Tattnall county, will be laid tomorrow morning with ceremonies to be attended by state and national leaders.

Senator Russell and Hugh Howell, chairman of the state democratic executive committee, will be the principal speakers. Mr. Howell will represent Governor Talmadge.

The new prison is being constructed with PWA funds. It will be leased by the state for a period of 15 years, when the accrued rentals will have paid the cost of construction.

Among the noted visitors who will attend the event are Clark Howell Sr., editor of The Atlanta Constitution; Herschel Jenkins, editor of the Savannah Morning News; and W. T. Anderson, editor of the Macon Telegraph.

FRANCE PLANS 'WAR' ON BANKS OF MARNE

Famous Battlefield Will Be Proving Ground for 'Army on Wheels' Today.

MOURMELON, France, Sept. 1.—(AP)—All roads echoed to the roar of nearly 3,000 tanks and armored cars today as concentration of troops was completed for France's autumn army maneuvers, its first big test of warfare on wheels.

More than 40,000 men assembled for the first mock battle, to begin at dawn tomorrow, in the region between Paris and the German frontier—scene of World War history.

For the first time in the history of French military action, not a single horse will be used.

Italian, Polish, Belgian and soviet missions joined the camp of their French allies.

The first big "battle" was set for the banks of the Marne, where bloody Franco-German encounters have occurred. The marshy land bordering the river was expected to test the motorized equipment to the limit.

This section of northeastern France will be the site of such battles for a month.

During this first week, three motorized divisions of 20,000 men will participate in maneuvers to emphasize particularly speed in modern combat.

The maneuvers are intended to answer one question—how far can motors carry a mass of troops over a battlefield in an average day?

The new chief of the French army, General Maurice Gamelin, will view the war games.

High Temper Is Called Blessing by Pastor

REV. W. J. DEBARDELEBEN.

Properly Guided Temper Is Asset, Rev. W. J. DeBardeleben Declares

(Editor's Note: The Constitution this morning presents the story of a series of features dealing with Atlanta ministers and their services. Other stories and pictures of pastors in their pulpits will be given on succeeding Mondays.)

The controlled use of temper as a blessing to mankind was the subject of a sermon delivered yesterday morning at the Capitol View Methodist church by the pastor, the Rev. William J. DeBardeleben.

He said, in part: "Frequently you hear the remark: 'I am cursed with a high temper.' This, like other errors of judgment, is due to the fact that one who makes this statement confuses the possession of a most valuable asset with its misuse. Whether it be a pocket-knife, sword, ax, razor, or human being, nothing is more essential than for the temper of each to be developed to its highest point of efficiency.

The great men of yesterday as well as those of modern times have evidenced their possession of a high temper in a most conspicuous manner.

"Moses, in the Old Testament, and St. John in the New Testament, furnish striking illustrations of the use and the misuse of temper. In the early part of life, Moses allowed his temper to get the upper hand of him, and to drive him to murder, but compelled him in after years to become the great deliverer.

"St. John, who eventually became the Apostle of Love, was in the beginning of his ministry anything but lovable in his disposition.

Jesus Not Docile.
"Those who make a careful study of the sayings and acts of Jesus Christ, as recorded by the evangelists, are enabled to comprehend the blessedness of the possession and control of high temper. One of the greatest mistakes

Georgia Tech Student Hurt at Swimming Pool

The first casualty of the season for an adult in city swimming pools that was serious enough to require hospital attention, occurred yesterday, one day before the pools were to close. One or two children previously had been hurt on slides.

Herbert Donald Jr., a Georgia Tech student whose home is in Ridgewood, N. J., received a five-inch gash on his head when he dived into the shallow water of the Piedmont park swimming pool at the bathhouse entrance.

He was treated at Grady hospital.

The church has made the erroneous conception it has held with reference to the ultra docility of Jesus. Both in word painting and in products of the brush He has been grossly misrepresented.

"While it is true that when His own personal, physical safety was at stake He had such perfect control of himself that He endured the smiting upon the cheek, the pressure of the crown of thorns, and even the torture of the cross without retaliating by word or deed—yet we must never forget those two memorable occasions when He cleansed the temple, when with flashing eyes and flaming cheeks He wielded the lash upon the backs of those who would commercialize, and finally turn into a den of thieves His Father's house. He showed even greater indignation when He scorched the Scribes and Pharisees, the so-called 'higher-ups,' denouncing them with burning words, and reminding them that publicans and sinners would gain admission into the kingdom of heaven before they would be allowed to enter.

"We are thus reminded that it is one thing to refrain from giving way to temper, or being controlled by temper when one is personally assailed, and quite another proposition to submit to indignities that may be heaped upon one's loved ones, his church, or his state.

Temper Is Power.
"No one would purchase an automobile that did not possess great destructive potentialities. A motor that could not break out plate glass windows, knock down fences, break-off telegraph poles, and mangle the bodies of men would not be worth installing in an automobile. The best locomotive that glides over the rails is built with a capacity to slaughter the most people. This power must always be properly controlled.

"A fiery steed is guided by bit and bridle; a high-powered automobile is controlled with steering gear and brakes; a high tempered person must be mastered by steady nerves, and intelligent mind and a God-directed spirit. The more capacity one has for the accomplishment of good, the greater must be his concern to insure against misdirected energy in the direction of evil."

RAMOS, FOE OF CALLES, GOVERNOR OF SONORA

Claims Cardenas' Support and Is Backed by Son of Enemy.

HERMOSILLO, Sonora, Mexico, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Ramon Ramos took office today as governor of Sonora with federal soldiers restraining a demonstration during which cries of "Down with Ramos" were heard.

Ramos, who's candidacy was backed by Rudolfo Elias Calles, son of General Plutarco Elias Calles, former Mexican president, was inaugurated shortly after midnight.

Ramos said he had the support of President Lazaro Cardenas, who recently split with General Calles, "iron man" of Mexico.

City Is Tense.
Because of the rift between President Cardenas and General Calles, this city was tense in anticipation of protests.

During the night a crowd of about 500 marched through the streets. Some of them shouted "Down with Ramos." Federal soldiers guarded every street section.

The anti-Ramos throng dispersed shortly before an excursion train from Nogales, Ariz., arrived here with 3,000 aboard for the inauguration ceremonies.

Tourists Searched.
American and Mexican tourists who came by motor cars were searched for weapons by soldiers as they entered the city.

Ramos' program for Sonora includes construction of major highways and at least two large dams for irrigation purposes.

THREE PERSONS HURT IN TRUCK COLLISION

Three persons were injured at 2:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon when a truck lurched onto a sidewalk after a collision with another truck at Chapel and McDaniel streets.

Samuel Sheridan, five-year-old negro, of 325 Chapel street, S. W., received a fractured skull, and was admitted to Grady hospital, where attaches said his condition was serious.

Harold Robinson, negro, 11 years old, had his legs cut and was treated at the hospital.

Mary Talbot, whose age was given on police records as 85 years, was also injured, receiving bruises of the leg, but was not taken to the hospital.

Police said that a truck driven by J. B. Mitchell, of Decatur, collided with a truck driven by Janette Jordan, negro, listed on reports as an employee of an ice cream company.

Tower of Babel Has Counterpart In Mixed Tongues Aboard Ship

Rev. H. E. Russell Finds Strange Mixtures in South American Commerce; River Passage Reveals Real Skill of Brazilian Pilots.

This is the eighth of a series of articles by the Rev. Henry Edward Russell, of McDonough, Ga., as he travels through South America. Mr. Russell's experiences and observations will be reported daily for Constitution readers.—Editor's Note.

TWO HUNDRED MILES UP THE AMAZON, Aug. 7.—Late yesterday afternoon we boarded a small launch which carried us several miles out in the harbor, where we boarded the Basil for the voyage up the river.

There are 12 passengers and eight nationalities going up to Manaus; the Venezuelan consul on his way to represent in that jungle bordered city the republic born through the struggles of El Libertador, Simon Bolivar; a Frenchman dealing in printer's supplies accompanied by his Italian wife; two salesmen from Portugal returning to their erstwhile colony for trade; Brazilian drummers seeking the same trade in this distant city of their vast republic; a porteno from Argentina on the same errand of commerce; Englishmen along to bid for the shipping in case a sale is made.

Three American travelers complete the passenger list. The confusion of the attempted conversation of this group gives one a fuller appreciation of the confounded tongues that met at the Tower of Babel.

Tricky Navigation.
Two Brazilian pilots, working in six-hour shifts for the day watches and four-hour shifts for the night watches, are entrusted with the navigation necessary to carry us through the multiplicity of islands, currents and channels found in this river. This ship went aground up here in 1883 and spent 11 weeks trying to get clear, while jungle life formed the cheering section that urged the five ships tugging at her to greater effort. The seamen with one accord voice their dislike for this trip.

We are now passing through what is known as the "narrows." The narrows are formed by the river as it runs around hundreds of islands which measure in size from several acres to thousands of square miles.

On every side the vast jungle raises its unkempt head. Towering giants of this gigantic swamp-forest join hands in their matted foliage and lean out over the water that is often slightly more than 100 yards wide, giving one the feeling that the ship is hemmed in and soon will be swallowed up in this interminable maze of vegetation.

Brush Grows Rapidly.
The efforts of some of the more industrious natives to clear patches of land for cultivation appear pathetic in the face of the odds presented by the all-consuming jungle. A patch recently cleared will be covered with the same brush in a few weeks. However, cultivation is not an essential as the forest and stream gives them food in abundance and since clothing is no problem such as they earn harvesting rubber, nuts and other products comes as a bonus.

Weaving our way through the circuitous channel of these "narrows" we have traveled every point of the compass and it is truly amazing how these Amazon pilots memorize a thousand-mile path over these muddy waters. After leaving the lights of Belem there is not one to direct the pilot until he reaches Manaus—a distance of 1,000 miles!

Tomorrow—An ocean steamer moored to a tree.

MRS. GERTRUDE WALKER DIES AT HOSPITAL HERE
Mrs. Gertrude Jack Walker, a resident of Atlanta for 45 years and an active worker in the Inman Park Baptist church, died yesterday at a private hospital. She was 83 and lived at 285 Josephine street, N. E.

Surviving are her husband, J. H. Walker; a daughter, Mrs. W. O. Bailey; two grandchildren, Constance and Betty Bailey; two sisters, Mrs. T. L. Hardin and Mrs. William Jones, of San Francisco; a nephew, T. L. Hardin Jr., of San Francisco, and a niece, Mrs. S. E. Mott, of Atlanta.

Funeral services will be conducted this afternoon at the Inman Park Baptist church with the Rev. S. F. Love and Dr. C. B. Wilmer officiating. Burial will be in West View cemetery with Awtry & Lowndes in charge.

HUEY WRITES OF HOW HE'D RUN WHITE HOUSE

Long Tells Indianapolis of New Book and His Presidential Plans.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Senator Huey Long followed a flock of telegrams into this city today and hesitated long enough on a trip west to make the profound declaration he has completed another book.

The title—"My First Days in the White House."

"And it contains one h— of a lot about what I would do in the White House," he announced, slapping his manuscript for emphasis.

Previous to his arrival every news service and newspaper received warning of his coming.

"Will you run in the 1936 election?" he was asked.

Not Against Borah.
The senator became a bit hazy, then asserted he was sure he would run if President Roosevelt and Herbert Hoover are major party nominees. He said if Senator William E. Borah, the republican nominee he will not oppose him and will not run for the office.

"Did you say anything about General Johnson?" a reporter queried.

The kingfisher thundered, "General Johnson will be dead again before this comes out. This book deals only with living characters."

"Spineless Congress."
He said the book will be published within a month.

"Congress has lost its spine," he declared as the train started to pull out for Oklahoma City, Okla., where he will address a labor organization tomorrow. "I find that the people agree with me that congress should be congress or quit."

Motorist Killed.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 1.—(AP)—James Nash, 28, of Charlestown, Ind., was killed early today when an automobile in which he was riding ran off the road and turned over near here.

Jack Spencer, 32, and Irvin Campbell, 33, of New Washington, also in the automobile, suffered cuts and bruises.

CATHOLICS EXPORTED TO HOLD TO THE FAITH

Pastoral Letter Directed to German Churches Cites 'Enemies.'

BERLIN, Sept. 1.—(AP)—A pastoral letter, exhorting all Catholics to "stand fast in the faith"—the outcome of the recent Catholic bishops' conference at Fulda—was read today from Catholic pulpits throughout the third reich.

"The number of enemies to the Catholic faith has become legion," the letter said.

"Youthful spirits who never learned or are only superficially acquainted with the Catholicism feel themselves called to risk in judgment on all that is Catholic."

The signatories of the letter were the German Cardinals Bertram, of Breslau; Faulhaber, of Munich; and Schulte, of Cologne, and 23 other archbishops, bishops and prelates of German dioceses.

Referring to the "enemies," the letter said: "By them the Holy Spirit, the Old Testament, the Gospel and the Epistles of Saint Paul are rejected. Our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ, is to be no longer the way of faith and light."

Avoid Anti-Catholicism.

Summoning the faithful to resist an onslaught of assaults upon the church by attempting to suppress it, refraining from reading anti-Catholic books and holding aloof from anti-Catholic meetings, the letter complained that Catholic papers not only are barred from printing religious articles, but sometimes are forced to print articles which are offensive to a Catholic reader.

"The planned regeneration of the German people can only succeed if it is not built upon the shifting sands of the human well-being and world view, but on the rock of Christian religion."

The letter said: "The fourth commandment enjoins us to obey authorities, but when the laws of the state come into conflict with natural laws and dislodge the commandments, then St. Peter's words apply: 'We must obey God rather than men.'"

The pastoral letter proceeded to challenge modern ideas concerning morals and asserted that the decline of the nation through a falling birth rate could not be stopped by police measures but only by moral forces and a Christian outlook.

"Hold fast in the faith when some say to you, 'Religion has nothing to do with politics and therefore political Catholicism must be exterminated,'" the letter asserted.

"This new slogan of political Catholicism can only impress persons bereft of judgment who do not ask why so much is said about the decline of religion who allegedly interfere with the state and so little about politicians who interfere with church affairs."

The letter said the Nazi slogan of political Catholicism can be invoked only too often to justify any tyrannical act.

It protested further against what it called de-Christianization of public life, pointing out that the concordat between the Vatican and the reich stipulated the right to "public exercise of the Catholic religion."

Religious agitation at home was recommended.

Educational Policy. "In our God-forded, the Old Testament is barred from the official curriculum," the letter urged parents to send their children as long as possible to denominational schools and later to permit them to join only those organizations in which religious convictions are respected.

"With great concern we observe the anti-church attitude of many youth leaders and youth periodicals," the letter said.

The bishops finally exhorted their congregations to preserve calm and not to return evil for evil, but forgive and pray for their enemies and not spread loose rumors directed against the state and its officers.

"We do not fear for our church, but we are deeply anxious about our people and our fatherland," their letter said.

"The church conquered the heathendom of old. The new heathendom cannot prevail against it. But continue to watch and pray."

THAIN ILLUSTRATOR DIES OF PNEUMONIA

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Merle Devore Johnson, 50, author, illustrator and authority on Mark Twain, died today of pneumonia.

Born at New York City, Ore., Johnson attended Leland Stanford University and later married Margaret Kough, of San Francisco. There are two children, Helen Carey and Marion Josephine.

For three years Johnson was manager of the art department of the New York Evening Journal and for a similar period was a cartoonist. He illustrated many books and made contributions to magazines and in 1910 wrote the life of Mark Twain. He was a compiler of "Howard's Book of Pirates" and also Pyle's book, "The American Spirit," and "High Spots of American Literature."

CHIEF RABBI KOOK

JERUSALEM, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Chief Rabbi Abraham Isaac Ben Salomo Salomon Ha-Kohen Kook, spiritual leader of modern Palestine, died today after a lingering illness.

'MISS ATLANTA' LEAVES FOR NATIONAL CONTEST

Miss LaRue Wilson, "Miss Atlanta" of 1935, left at 1 o'clock yesterday for Atlantic City, where she will compete for the title of "Miss America" at the national beauty contest this week.

Miss Wilson was given a send-off yesterday by many friends who escorted her from the Paramount theater to the station, where she boarded a Seaboard train.

Tommy Duffell of the Paramount and Mrs. Phil Duffell accompanied Atlanta's entrant in the beauty contest, who won the title early in August at a competition held at Lakewood park.

FLUSH KIDNEYS OF POISONS AND STOP GETTING UP NIGHTS

Thousands of men and women wonder why backache bothers them—why they have to visit the bathroom often at night—why flow is scanty and sometimes smarts and burns.

Any one of these symptoms means that your kidneys and bladder need attention now, before these minor symptoms develop into serious trouble.

To flush out waste poisons and acid from kidneys, soothe your irritated bladder and put healthy activity into them, get a 25-cent package of GOLD MEDAL Haerlem Oil Capsules and take as directed.

This harmless, tried and true medicine always works—you'll feel better in a few days, as this supremely effective diuretic and kidney stimulant drives excess uric acid from the body which is often the aggravation of joint agony, sciatica and neuritis. Joint and back pain, rheumatism, gout, and get GOLD MEDAL Haerlem Oil Capsules—the original and genuine—right from Haerlem in Holland. All good things are imitated.

Chief Executive's Future Policies Are Revealed Through George Creel

Roosevelt Will Balance Budget in 1939, Author of Article Asserts; Interpretation of Other Presidential Views Is Given.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—As an answer to recent criticisms of President Roosevelt's failure to take the country into his full confidence regarding future policies, George Creel presents in Collier's Weekly, issued last Friday, a complete exposition of the President's plans.

Raising his information on authoritative administrative sources, Mr. Creel announces that the federal budget is to be balanced in 1939. The plan for this balancing has been formulated by the President's director, by Treasury experts, and is as definite as precise figures can make it.

"For the present year, ending July 1, 1936, receipts will be 3,922 million dollars and the deficit 3,892 million. For next year, ending July 1, 1937, receipts will be 4,200 million, with a deficit of 2,000 million; the following year (ending July 1, 1938) receipts will be 5,000 million and deficit 500 million. In 1939, the deficit will be wiped out; there will be a surplus of 500 million."

Says Mr. Creel: "The President holds that the best and quickest way to balance the national budget is to balance the budget of the federal government. Even so, receipts and expenditures are being given careful consideration, and the Treasury experts already see the day when the budget will be balanced. But without ignoring an essential government duty or human obligation."

"The United States has not needed its debt limit for years. The cost of the debt structure is being steadily reduced. Two years ago a little debt will keep our living standard at nearly 3 percent."

Some of the other important subjects on which Mr. Creel, speaking with authority, indicates the President's present presidential policies are:

Amending the Constitution: "It is the President's deep conviction that the constitution was never meant to be a dead hand, chilling human aspiration and blocking humanity's advance, but that the foundation of the republic is a living force for the expression of the national will with respect to national needs. Believing that the vast and widening ill of balance and debt compel new objectives in human relations, the laws he has proposed are frank attempts to gain those objectives. ## ROOSEVELT VACATION BEGINS AT HYDE PARK

First Lady Cancels Labor
Plans To Attend Funeral of Mrs. Ickes.

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 1.—(AP) President Roosevelt came home today for a vacation and a period of observation of national and international affairs from the old family estate.

The special train from Washington arrived at Highland, across the Hudson river, early this morning and Mr. Roosevelt was at home in time for breakfast.

He was met at the house by Mrs. Roosevelt and his mother, Mrs. James Roosevelt Sr.

So far as national affairs are concerned, there was no announcement of any immediate moves by the President, and it was expected he would devote time while here to routine and the final disposition of congressional business. Some votes are in sight.

Labor Day Plans Broken.

The sudden death of Mrs. Harold Ickes shocked the President and Mrs. Roosevelt and their plans for Labor Day were held in abeyance.

Mrs. Roosevelt is leaving to attend the funeral service of the wife of the secretary of the interior, Mr. Ickes, who is chairman of the allotment board of the Works Relief program, was one of the last callers yesterday at the White House.

The President is maintaining the usual temporary office at nearby Poughkeepsie, with a secretarial staff, and will receive official callers, necessarily dictated during the brief summer vacation period.

Among those expected here before long is Postmaster-General Farley, from a vacation trip to Hawaii. However, there is no definite date set for this visit nor any announcement of it.

Stephen T. Hays, secretary, heads the secretarial staff, established at the Nelson House in Poughkeepsie. Wires are open to the White House for constant contact.

The presidential staff includes Margaret Lehand, Grace Tully, Roberta Barrows and Henry Kanne, secretary; Grace Farley, telephone operator, and E. W. Smithers, veteran White House telegraph operator.

Radio Day Set.

In all probability Mr. Roosevelt will remain here until just before his trip to the Pacific coast. He will break over the radio on September 23 on opening of the annual convention for human needs and it is believed he will start westward immediately thereafter.

Because of the death of Mrs. Ickes, Mrs. Roosevelt canceled plans for a picnic party for the presidential group and newspapermen accompanying him, to have been held at the estate.

One will leave in time to be at the services in Winnetka, Ill., on Tuesday.

Spending the day at home, the President arranged for some work on Labor Day because of necessity of acting on some bills he intends to veto before the ten-day constitutional limit.

He has made it a practice to let measures die by the old method of simply not signing before the ten-day limit. He will dictate reasons for not approving.

Legislation of the last session has been approved.

Mr. Roosevelt today instructed the State Department to authorize Ambassador David Henson Morris at Belgium to represent this government at the funeral service for Queen Astrid.

Farley Predicts Return of Roosevelt.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—(AP)—James A. Farley, ending a vacation which took him as far away as Hawaii, stepped off a train in New York today and beamingly announced:

"Mr. Roosevelt will be re-elected in 1936 by exactly the same plurality as he was in 1932."

He said that he did not plan to go immediately to near-by Hyde Park, where the President is resting before starting a transcontinental tour.

"I don't know when I will see the President," he said.

The midwest and Pacific coast are "solidly behind Roosevelt," he asserted. He declined to comment on the suggestion that Al Smith stand as a "Jeffersonian" candidate for president.

President Signs Bill On Fla. Waterways.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Improvements for navigation along Florida's vast shoreline and in several rivers on the peninsula, at a cost of approximately $13,000,000, approved in the new rivers and harbors bill which yesterday received the signature of the President.

The measure, which is an actual appropriation, but gave the projects a favored status under future waterway construction programs.

Among the numerous Florida improvements authorized were Miami Harbor, Tampa Harbor, Pensacola Harbor, Port Everglades and Fort Pierce Harbor. In addition, several waterway studies were authorized, including a new cross-Florida canal route from Fort Pierce to Tampa Bay.

to inform Emperor Haile Selassie the League, chosen and appointed by the emperor, to consider the concession, considering such concession a matter for preliminary consultations between the English, French and Italian governments.

Referring to a suggestion by George Bernard Shaw, noted British author, lecturer-playwright, that the king of the Belgians, who had been crowned emperor of the League, to save the League of Nations and preserve world peace, the emperor said dramatically:

"I would rather kill myself like Emperor Theodore 60 years ago, than become a puppet prince under the Italians."

"I would be unworthy of my great ancestors, beginning with Solomon, if I submitted to Italian vassalage. Nor can I, as sovereign of the oldest empire in the world, which had its beginnings before the flood, accept a British protectorate or an Anglo-French regime."

African Situation Threatens U. S., British Fascist Leader Declares

By SIR OSWALD MOSLEY, British Fascist Leader.

(Written for the Associated Press.)

LONDON, Sept. 1.—The dangers of the present international situation threaten America as much as the rest of us. This test is an issue for white civilization.

Is the League of Nations to be made an instrument for maintenance of barbarism? Is raiding for slaves by Semite-Negro tribes in not only Italian but British territory to be upheld by the collective protection of western civilization?

We will not go to war against Italy. We object to employment of sanctions against a country like Italy in the protection of civilization of the twentieth century.

Any great nation with any sense will, like America, keep right out of the dispute.

The British government is muddling us into war by upbraiding Italy for what Britain used to do. Some countries even think we hold imperialist strings in the shape of a no danger of that since we have just given India.

To those who have brought us to the verge of war while keeping us in a state of peace, I say: "Mind Britain's business and leave Europe alone." To muddlers and traitors I say: "Keep out and stay out of the dispute."

The British union of fascists, which has 470 branches throughout the United Kingdom, is about to treat Britain to the greatest fascist drive since the war. Let those who seek "collective security" find it in a union of civilized countries to resist communism and oriental barbarism. These dangers threaten us all with-

Italy definite economic zones on both sides of the railroad? This correspondence asked.

"I do not wish to institute the practice of giving bribes in order to induce potential aggressors to refrain from war and respect their international obligations," the emperor replied.

Outside Aid Offered.

Haile Selassie said two negro American divisions have volunteered their services in Ethiopia against Italy, but that the government is not ready to accept such offers from abroad.

"Would you be disposed to give England complete control of Lake Tana if England protected Ethiopia from Italian aggression?" the emperor was asked.

"Decidedly no," he exclaimed. "We cannot cut Ethiopia like a cake, handing up parts to us and that country just to win their smiles and satisfy their sweet tooth."

"Would England or any other sovereign nation give up territory as willful? No. I have taken an oath to the memory of the great Menelik to defend the empire until God calls me unto Him."

Britain to Probe Interest in Grant.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Great Britain started an investigation today to learn what the Italian government and British money were involved in Ethiopia's concession to the African Development Exploration Company.

The results of this inquiry, it was learned from an authoritative source, were a most anxiously awaited feature of an expected report from Sir Sidney Barton, British minister to Ethiopia.

Sir Sidney has been instructed by the British government to advise Emperor Haile Selassie to withhold the granting of the concession, which was negotiated by a British promoter, Francis M. Rickard, taken to the emperor by a British promoter.

The unofficial attitude was, "If it is purely an American proposition, it is no concern of Britain's. But if English are in it—it is another matter."

The British government's quick instructions to its Ethiopian minister last night were interpreted in political circles as an attempt to protect the Italians and French who seized on the concession as an opportunity to carry on war against Italy for some time.

He said he considered the present embargo on arms to Ethiopia extremely unfair.

"We have unceasingly sought a peaceful solution of the conflict, even though our territory is already invaded," he asserted.

"We have not thought of ceasing our efforts for peace, nor of resorting to force, except to repel a further invasion. In the event war is thrust upon us, we expected these arms embargoes will be removed."

Protection for Foreigners.

Haile Selassie said that if, unhappily, Geneva's efforts should fail and war should come, the lives and property of Americans and foreigners in Ethiopia would be protected as much as possible.

"The details of the protective measures will be announced at an opportune moment, which will be when and if hostilities begin," he said.

This correspondent asked the emperor if he was ready to cede any territory to Italy for cash. The emperor replied:

"In the past, rectifications of frontiers have been obtained from Ethiopia through pecuniary compensation."

"I would facilitate another such arrangement, devoting the proceeds to social and economic improvements, provided such arrangement would contribute to peaceful and complete settlement of the present conflict."

"The particular area ceded and the amount of compensation would necessarily be subject to negotiation."

"Are you ready, in order to avoid war, to give Italy the right to construct a railroad across Ethiopia west of Addis Ababa, connecting Eritrea with Italian Somaliland and granting in and without, America as much as any of us.

It is my hope and belief that in this conception, the American people will one day join not only in the building but in the protection of civilization of the twentieth century.

GREEN FLAG OF ISLAM WILL LEAD ETHIOPIANS

army are to deliver an incessant rain of sledgehammer blows, a pitiless assault of unrelenting and merciless artillery, fire, to break the Ethiopian line in all centers in order to reach the open plains where the roads begin leading into the central provinces.

At the same time the northern Italian army, concentrating now on the Eritrean frontier in strongly entrenched steel redoubts, concrete trenches and barbed wire entanglements, which Italy has been building and installing in the last three years unbeknown to the Ethiopians, and long before the Calusi incident, will engage another Abyssinian army and keep it occupied while main attack comes from the south.

Will Unfold Green Flag.

That the Ethiopian military chiefs are fully aware this will be the general development of Italian strategy is evidenced by the uninterrupted stream of reinforcements pouring to the Somali frontier.

Even the pithy black Sudanese warriors on silver and purple caparisoned mules who cross the borders from the Anglo-Egyptian territory very near the Ethiopian-Eritrean frontier are not incorporated in the northern Abyssinian army when they come to offer their services to the negus, but are directed through Addis Ababa to Welbi Pasha's southern force, which is becoming strongly Moslem.

Welbi Pasha, who commanded the Turkish corps which forced the British withdrawal from Gallipoli in the World War, told me he intends to unfurl the green banner of the prophet, which means proclamation of a holy war of the Mohammedan faith. This might have serious repercussions in other Moslem countries, where revolt smoulders eternally below the surface.

Cavalry Assembling.

Welbi is assembling 70,000 cavalry, of whom fully 50,000 are at the front. He also boasts he has artillery, although his forces here consist of a few machine guns.

The wildest of riders and vast chaotic masses of riflemen versus bombardiers, machine gunners, flocks of bullet-spraying combat aeroplanes against shouting hordes; Franciscan swarms versus the serried iron discipline of the modern legions; perfectly efficient modern killing machinery against bare brown breasts, that's the lineup.

Has September will tell the story as the winter season draws to a close. At present it is still pouring rain in Ethiopia and words in European chancelleries, but the murmur of a battle is drying down and the dread of silence draws nigh in which the world breathlessly waits for the electric shock of Mussolini's shout, "Carri!"

His records showed 31 hurt in August, against 14 in July, with a total of 98 car crashes having been investigated by authorities. Rogers said during the first eight months of the year 10 persons had been killed, and 179 injured, in the 624 accidents.

The only fatality listed in August was the death of a negro, who was run over by a heavy truck.

Trains, automobiles and bicycles brought thousands to join the growing queue, estimated to number 10,000 persons who circled the royal palace, awaiting a chance to enter the death chamber to pay their last respects to Astrod.

The palace gates were opened at 9 a. m. to permit passage through the death chamber to the thousands who stood outside all night.

Many persons carried stools and food. Even invalids stood by, awaiting their turn, under the rain and the chilly winds of last night and the broiling sun of today.

Ambulances Needed.

Occasionally ambulance men pushed their way through the crowd carrying women who fainted from exhaustion or who were overcome by emotion.

Police said the crowd seeking admission today was larger than that at any time while the late King Albert, who died in a mountain climbing accident, was lying in state.

The so-called hammers in the hands of workmen building tribunes for the funeral Tuesday was heard strongly over the shuffle of feet of the mourners entering the palace.

Barriers also were being erected to withstand the pressure of the great crowds.

UNION MINERS TO BACK ROOSEVELT CAMPAIGN

Lewis Pledges Organization's Aid, Says Guffey Bill Will Revive Industry.

FAIRMONT, W. Va., Sept. 1.—(AP) John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers of America, today predicted the reelection of President Roosevelt and described the recent congress as "the most progressive that ever sat in Washington."

The union chief asserted the Guffey-Snyder coal stabilization bill, designed to create a "little NRA" for the bituminous industry, "should restore prosperity to the distressed bituminous industry, its employers and the communities dependent upon them."

Addressing a throng of miners at a Lewis Day celebration, Lewis said: "The republic will endure and attain that measure of general welfare which the fathers must have contemplated for the common people of this country stand steadfast with a chief man who stands steadfast for them."

"The President has shown he stands always with the average citizen in the fight against unwarranted privilege and license."

"Organized labor has no choice but to support the President who will vote with and with its rural people. A grateful people in appreciation of faithful stewardship will re-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt."

Lewis pledged the organization's aid, other banking laws, tax statutes and legislation affecting farmers, and turned to the newly enacted social security law.

"Again the path is blazed, not wide but clear. Both unemployed insurance and old age pensions are companions to workmen's compensation."

BREAK O'DAY!
By Ralph McKee

One hundred miles at Lakewood's speedway today! There are two turns there. One hundred times around. Two hundred turns.

But each turn has two parts. One must drive into it, master it, step on the gas and come out of it. On each half of the turn there is a fight; 200 turns, 400 battles in the 100 miles.

It is a strange fight. The drivers calling it fighting the wheel, it isn't all that. The car drives into the turn. The driver must force it around. But he must be careful. The fence is to his left. Through the dust at his right or left he may see another car. He eases his foot on the gas. The car straightens. He has won. But he must throw it immediately into another fight.

The drivers tell me there is but a fraction of a second there. They feel the car come under control. And as they feel it they smash down the foot again and it leaps for the turn and into it and out of it in the straightaway. Down goes the foot. There is another turn. Into it. Out of it. In the stretch. Another turn. One hundred miles of it.

One hundred miles with each mile on the edge of a smash. That is, of course, the real lure of the races. They do not go to see a smash. But they do go there to watch men challenge and defy that little edge which separates safety from extreme danger, life from death. It is not the smash which lures, but the challenge; the thumbing of a figurative nose at chance; the storming of that thin barrier which lies between the prosaic and the daring.

Almost every driver of the family car has a little of that feeling. On a clear stretch of road there is a desire to "let it out"—to put the foot down on the throttle and feel the control power.

They measure it in horse power, the power of the engines. And there is no wonder they thrill. Ben-Hur's chariot race used to thrill even when placed on the stage with fire horses pounding a wooden treadmill.

Each of the racing cars today will have many, many horses there under the hood. And imagination can almost see them plunging into the boiling dust of the turns and out of them with the foot down hard and all the horses racing like mad, their manes flying, their hoofs pounding.

It gets the crowd, too... seeing them whirl into the turn, wheel to wheel and then the leap out of it and the race in the stretch.

It's the challenge that lures—not the smash of wood and metal and man... but the thumbing of a nose at a near-by fate as these drivers of many horses accept the challenge with a heavy foot and sure hand.

DEVORE AND BATTEN.

Billie Devore races today. His father, Earl Devore was a race driver. And he is dead.

He died in no ending smash of metal on some race track. He died in a lonely sea with another race driver. The story is worth telling.

A decade ago I saw Norman Batten defy a flaming death on the bricks at Indianapolis. He was racing there in the great 500-mile event when a broken gas line caught fire and the gas flamed up. He brought his car into the stretch, steering it with a foot while he protected his face from the flames with his crossed arms through which he peered to steer.

He brought it in and out of the way of the roaring field. He almost died from that but he beat it.

And a year later he and Earl Devore sailed for Australia on the steamship Vestris. They had contracts to race in Australia. And one day on a lonely sea far from any land, the Vestris sank.

She sank a bit slowly, did the Vestris. But not so slowly there was no need for haste. There was an amateur cameraman on board that day. And in some newspaper offices today you may see framed the picture of the deck as the Vestris was sinking. You may see wild-eyed men lowering boats. You may see frightened people on the listed deck. There was not much time.

The Vestris sank. And many men died. Devore and Batten died. They stayed on the deck and they handed women and children and men into lifeboats until there was no more room. And they went down with the Vestris.

Batten had cheated death on the bricks at Indianapolis. He had cheated speed and fire. And Devore had thumbed an impudent nose at death on many, many tracks. They died at sea.

So there is no wonder the drivers are fatalists. There is no wonder they never think of danger as they whirl into the turns with skidding wheels and a wild motor.

There is no telling when the number comes up—at sea—on the roaring road or at home, comfortably in bed. There is just no telling.

"IT WON'T HAPPEN TO ME."

It gets one, if one gets to thinking on it, strolling about the pits where they tinker with their cars, testing this and that. I mean this business of the number being up gets one.

They are, for the most part, fresh and young and speed is in their blood.

And you wonder, talking with them, if the old stack of bones in his white robe is pointing at one of them. It's almost as if they were mustering for a charge against fearful odds and yet the odds are not so great. Not, at any rate, for those who have learned how to fight the turns and step on the throttle. And one who doesn't know how has no business being out there on the track.

And the track is no place for a car which isn't ready. And there should be rigid inspection of all. But if the car is right and the driver is right the odds are not so great. They are better than even in his favor. Which is about all one can say of driving a car on any of our city streets.

They never think it will happen to them.

I recall last May at Indianapolis. Al Gordon's car smashed into the wall. His steel crash helmet was worn thin as paper. Yet he walked away from the wreck.

And where did I see Al Gordon an hour later? He was down at the pits, nervous and eager... nervous because another driver who had promised to let him drive relief wouldn't come in so he could get out there again.

"It'll never happen to me," they say, "I'm too good a driver."

And there is no boasting in it. They mean they know how to control a car in any spot on the track.

100 Miles, 200 Turns.

There is football today. And that is one of the grandest games of them all.

But I think I shall have to be there close to the track when the cars start roaring on their 100 miles; where the dust blows off in little drifts with the wind and the bellowing roar of the motors is unceasing from the start to finish.

I like to watch the challenge and the acceptance by those who know the way and who have the odds their way. The thrill comes in accepting the dare—and beating it.

ROBERTS, TODD, WINNING SIGNEES TO CONTRACTS

Three Youngsters Will Report for Tryouts Next Spring.

By Jimmy Jones.

The present Atlanta baseball administration is to be congratulated on a number of things, not the least of which is the adoption of a more far-sighted and aggressive policy in building up a player reserve for future years.

Instead of becoming complacent and self-satisfied with their present winning club, the front office force, headed by the capable young president, Mr. Earl Mann, is taking steps to fill certain gaps which are bound to develop in the ranks of the present team.

Mr. Mann is sending out emissaries into the by-ways and hedges where promising young ball players abound and they are scoring a few beats on the big league ivory hunters in this section.

GO AFTER 'EM.

The latest announcement along the line of the build-up program is that the Crackers have signed to contracts three of the most promising players of the Carolina League.

They are Carlos "Cotton" Todd, the state second baseman and captain of the "Farmers" as the team is called; Al Nixon, pitcher and outfielder; and Charley Roberts, the third baseman.

This triplé deal was executed for the Atlanta club by George Dewey McLendon, of Villa Rica, well known in some of the ranks of the state and still better known as the man who signed Johnny Hill, the third baseman, off the Douglasville sandlots last winter, beating a record for the acquisition of the 23-year-old rookie sensation of the Atlanta club.

McLendon went to Carrollton yesterday with three contracts and returned with all of them signed. The three Crackers fledglings, all of them lads in their early teens, will not be brought in this year. They will be placed on the reserve roster for 1936 and will get tryouts next spring. Chances are they will be sent out to the Crackers' Class D farm, wherever that may be located, for professional seasoning and then stepped up to Portsmouth. They should be ready for the Crackers in about a year or two.

One of them will be like Johnny Hill and show so much stuff that such procedure will not be necessary.

OTHERS SOUGHT THEM.

Several big league clubs were interested in Todd, Nixon and Roberts as well as Webb, outfielder, and Wingate, the shortest of the team. Herb Pennock, former big league pitcher and president of the Boston Red Sox "farm" club at Charlotte, was making an effort to sign them after seeing them play in the sandlot tournament at Charlotte.

All three players grew up in and around Carrollton and started playing ball there. And they were all vital cogs in the Carrollton team.

Nixon, the pitcher and outfielder, probably will be used exclusively in the latter capacity by the Crackers. The boy is considered a natural left-hand hitter, has an excellent throwing arm and is of husky build.

GOOD PROSPECTS.

Todd, the cotton-topped second baseman, likewise looked up to as a "natural." He fields his position like an old-timer and handles tough chances with the poise and balance of a veteran hand.

He is also an excellent hitter, for a youngster and has a long-range punch. He is a right-hand hitter and thrower.

Charley Roberts, a 165-pound, has an excellent arm and his very well.

President Mann, of the Crackers, looks upon the signing of these players as good business, for they are just at the age to be of value to the club when some of the present players are fading out. In three or four years, one or more of them should come in pretty handy.

The Crackers' "farm" operations have been very successful this far. From the Carrollton team, operated by the late Wilbert Robinson, came "Nig" Lipscomb, the second baseman; "Pinkie" James, the outfielder, now with the Montreal Royals; Durham, the pitcher, and Hugh Casey, another pitcher, who was sold to the Chicago Cubs last fall.

WORK WITH PORTSMOUTH.

This year Atlanta worked with in the same league, which club is managed by "Tip" Koehler. They got Al Williams, an improved young pitcher, back from there and have another pitcher, Kirby Hight, whom the Athletics want to buy right now. The Atlanta club is concentrating on home boys from now on, President Mann announced.

There was a time when Atlanta and Georgia boys had to go elsewhere to get a chance. Well, we're going to put a stop to that. We're going to get a Class D club and sign on a few of these youngsters.

The Crackers have Gerald McQuig, a young outfielder, down at American and have just recalled Wayne Ricks, second baseman, from the Moultrie club in the Georgia-Florida league.

Farmers To Play Birmingham Today

CARROLLTON, Ga., Sept. 1.—(AP) The Carrollton Farmers, sandlot baseball champions of Georgia, will play the Birmingham sandloters, Alabama champions, in a double-header here tomorrow.

The Carrollton team recently was eliminated by Gastonia in the semifinals of the national American Legion tournament at Charlotte, N. C.

"It'll never happen to me," they say, "I'm too good a driver."

And there is no boasting in it. They mean they know how to control a car in any spot on the track.

BARONS SPLIT WITH PELICANS

NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Birmingham and New Orleans divided a doubleheader here this afternoon.

The visitors staged a ninth-inning rally in the first game, but the home team, led by pitcher Jim Davis, pitched his first game for the Pelicans in the second, 6 to 5.

The Pelicans made five runs on five hits off Weaver in the first inning of the second game. Half hit a home run, two scored on a sacrifice, and the Pelicans won the game, 6 to 5.

GEORGIA'S GRID ELEVENS BEGIN PRACTICETODAY

Bulldogs Delay Start One Day; Mercer Has Rugged Schedule.

By Ralph McGill.

Georgia Tech beats Georgia—to practice. Those Engineers at the Flats will put on their canvas football bloomers, their sweat shirts and their cleated shoes and start in on the 1935 season this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Rose Bowl field.

Georgia will not begin until Tuesday afternoon, according to reports from Mr. Harry Mehrer at Athens, he being head coach and in a position to know.

The Georgia coaches will be in Atlanta today for the football clinic which the southern football officials are staging at Grant field. This will delay their start for one day.

THE PROSPECTS.

Georgia's football prospects for state football are very, very good. Down at Mercer Lake Russell has hopes of putting out an eleven which will rival the one of two seasons ago. It is an all-Georgia product. And while he opens with Georgia he hopes to go ahead with a very rigorous schedule and emerge from it with a fair share of victories. He opens with Georgia and then takes Navy—to give you an idea.

Oglethorpe loses most of her first-string players. Coach Patrick has a rugged schedule and his prospects are none too bright. But he did a good job last fall and may repeat.

From all over the state at the various junior colleges comes word that good football teams will be ready this fall. It looks like a good year.

OPEN WITH MERCER.

Georgia's Bulldogs, opening with Mercer, will get their first night game in history on the following week, according to present plans. The University of Chattanooga team has installed lights and Georgia is expected to play to a crowd of about 10,000 on the night of October 3, following the Mercer game at Athens on September 28.

Georgia has a brilliant array of knickers and passers. No team in Dixie will outkick or outpass Georgia this year. And it is on that basis that one is forced to rate Georgia about fourth in the standing as the teams prepare.

Georgia, with John Bond, Maurice Green and Bill Hartman as kickers, and with another or two to help out, is very strong there. The same men, plus Alf Anderson must be added to the list. He and Green are better than the average.

Georgia has speed in the backfield, speed to burn. There is Glenn Johnson, the Savannah speedster; Johnny Cavan, a Mind Alf Anderson, and a half dozen others of speed. Maurice Green and Bill Hartman are a couple of reliable prospects. The latter is a sophomore.

JANY BACKS.

Georgia has as fine a lot of backfield candidates as any team in Dixie. Only Alabama, L. S. U. and Tennessee have as many or more.

The line is the chief problem at Georgia. Leroy Morehead returns for a guard position. He helps. The first-string lineup in the line will be strong. But it lacks reserves.

Georgia will be rated as a real prospect, however. At Tech one finds Coach W. A. Alexander depending on a number of sophomores. He will use at least two in the backfield and the others will be distributed in the line. His problem is reserves.

The team will be fairly heavy. It will be fairly fast. But it lacks power. It will be forced to throw the ball quite a lot. The passing and kicking prospects are good. Not great.

HALF AND HALF.

Tech should come along to win about half her games. The material simply isn't there. Alexander hasn't had it in any great quantities or ability since 1928. There is no need saying he has. The football players of today do not seem to care about winning games. They care about the point. They care about the money. He doesn't put out dumb ones.

Georgia plays no intercollegiate games. Tech offers a great home schedule of these great games: Presbyterian, Swann, Duke, Vanderbilt, Auburn, Florida and Georgia.

Georgia plays Mercer, Furman, Alabama and L. S. U. in Athens for a brilliant home schedule.

Georgia must be rated as superior to Tech in prospects. But Georgia coaches deny any such claim. They point a championship contender. They point out the lack of line reserves.

Tech is somewhat optimistic. The squad numbers 31, which is somewhat shaky and broke the Florida state service in the first game. Hendrix served two double faults, the last one costing him the game.

Hendrix then broke Boland's service and won his own to take the lead. Boland, slapping the winning point out of reach down the sidelines, won the next game on his own service and evened the match.

ONE NOT DECEIVED.

Hendrix won the rest of the games in the set. There was only one game of the entire eight that did not go to deuce.

The first game of the second set was the longest of the match. It went to deuce seven times with Hendrix serving. Boland had advantage four times but he couldn't get over the deciding point. Boland ran Hendrix out of the set.

But Boland was able to win only one game, the sixth, which went to deuce three times. And it was, incidentally, the only game of the match going to deuce that Boland was able to win. Four of the seven games in the second set went to deuce.

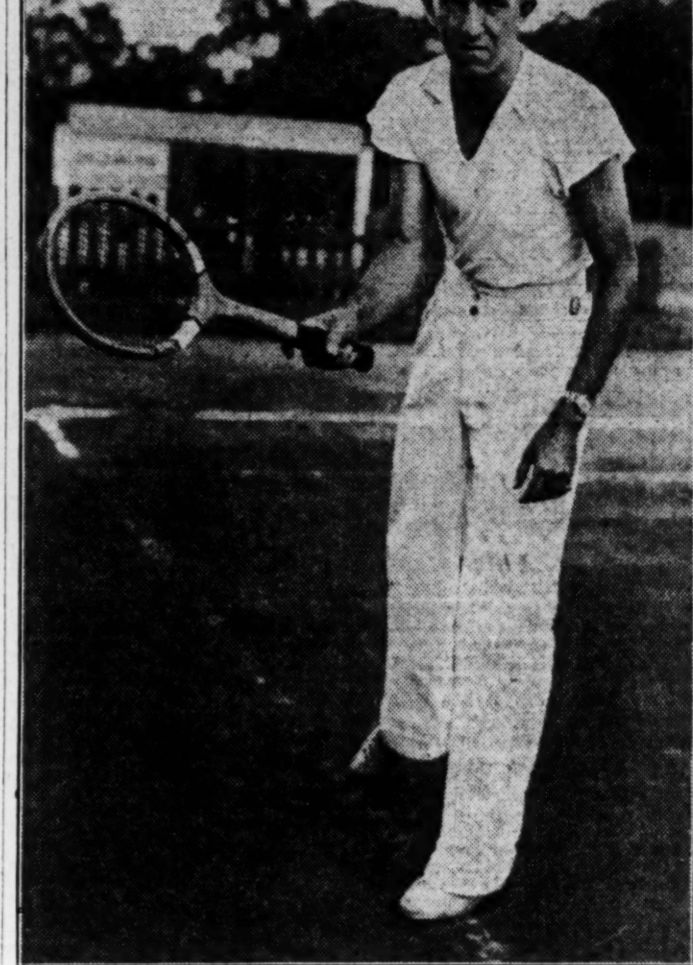

In the final set, Boland won the third game when Hendrix hit three under the state law.

Babe Ruth Plays For Police Nines

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Babe Ruth took another hit at baseball today and the largest Minneapolis crowd in many years, 13,000 fans, turned out to see him hit his first home run.

The Babe played the whole nine innings, four and a half with each team. He didn't hit a home run, but nobody seemed disappointed and the autograph business was as brisk as ever. Babe hit a double.

New State Champion

Hendrix Wins Fifth State Tennis Title

Kels Boland Beaten in Straight Sets; Russell Bobbitt Wins Junior Title.

By Jack Troy.

Arthur Hendrix, well-knit Florida star who bears a close resemblance to Berkeley Bell, in winning the Georgia state singles title yesterday at the Biltmore club, established himself as another one of those prophets not without honor save in his own country.

Hendrix, without and outmaneuvered Dr. Kels (Brickwall) Boland to win the title in straight sets, 6-2, 6-1, 6-1. And in so doing he won his fifth title in a row.

The Florida star is champion of Georgia, Alabama and a few other states, but he is not the head man in his native country—Florida. Hendrix was Florida champion until this year. He lost to Frank Guernsey, of Orlando, in defense of his "Gator state" crown.

MAKING HAY.

The tall, slightly stooped Lakeland larriper is making hay while the sun shines, as it were. With most of the topnotchers up east making futile efforts to win themselves some glory, Hendrix is traveling around and winning all the southern titles in sight.

The state junior title was decided shortly after Hendrix and Boland started play on the No. 2 court yesterday.

Russell Bobbitt and Campbell Gillespie had been engaged in a magnificent match since 2 o'clock. Bobbitt won the first set with a brilliant display of backhand and forehand smashes and passing shots, 6-3.

Gillespie made a real bid to even things in the second. He had a lead of 5-3 in games and 40-15 or set-point on his own service. But he couldn't get the point. Bobbitt deuced the game and went on to win the second set, 8-6.

BOBBITT WINNER.

This break was all in favor of Bobbitt, who raced through the final set, 6-4, to win the junior state title.

Boland found Hendrix's slashing chop shots exceedingly difficult to handle. And he also found that Hendrix's service, which he began his second season as alumni head coach of the one Stoney Petrels.

And yet, in the first set Boland, very steady, caught Hendrix a trifle shaky and broke the Florida star's service in the first game. Hendrix served two double faults, the last one costing him the game.

Hendrix then broke Boland's service and won his own to take the lead. Boland, slapping the winning point out of reach down the sidelines, won the next game on his own service and evened the match.

WIN EXHIBITION

By Roy White.

Dr. Julius Hughes and Bill Terrell, Dr. H. L. Hughes, defeated Alvin Everett and Bill McWilliams, Rome area, 2-1, Sunday afternoon on the Druid Hills course, in an exhibition match. An unusually large crowd followed the match and was well rewarded with some sensational shots.

Hughes, former Atlanta open and amateur champion and medalist in the sectional qualifying rounds for the national amateur, set the pace with a 72 one stroke over par. Terrell followed close behind with a 77 and won several holes for his side.

Everett, the long driving Rome southpaw, who placed second in the amateur qualifying, was second to Hughes with a 76, with McWilliams, twice former Georgia amateur champion, following close behind Everett.

The match was arranged by Harry Stephens, the Dr. H. L. Hughes professional, in honor of Terrell, who is visiting here during the holidays. Terrell was a former member of the Dr. H. L. Hughes Club and early last month, he moved to Greenville, S. C.

It was announced Sunday that Everett will be unable to participate in the national amateur tournament, next week at Cleveland, and his place will be taken by Crawford Rainwater, the fifth low scorer in the qualifying rounds. Last year Rainwater was an alternate and replaced Julius Hughes in the amateur tournament.

Kyle Is Winner In 75-Hole Match.

J. C. Kyle defeated K. A. Stephenson, 2 up, on the 75th hole Sunday at East Lake, in one of the longest matches ever to be played in a club tournament. It was in the second flight of the annual president's cup tournament.

Kyle and Stephenson played 57 holes Saturday and finished all square and in the third extra 18-hole match, played Sunday, Kyle won out.

A number of other matches in the first round have been completed, but due to today being a holiday, the first round was extended one day longer.

Qualifying Today At White Course.

Qualifying rounds for an invitation benefit golf tournament on the John A. White municipal course will open today. The qualifying will extend over a period of two weeks, with one week being given over to each round of match play.

The tournament is being sponsored by the bishop's branch of the Woman's Auxiliaries of the Episcopal church. R. M. Hubert, the John White professional, will be in charge of the tournament.

The tournament is open to every amateur golfer in the city and flights of 16 will be arranged.

BOOK GAME

$1,800 in Cash Prizes for Book Titles!

By THE BOOK GAME EDITOR.

This truly inspiring contest—approved by 45 beloved literary stars of America and Europe, lauded by distinguished educators, librarians and members of the clergy, and eagerly followed by all booklovers, comes to its conclusion today with the publication of picture No. 80—the last of the series.

These helpful paragraphs, previously given here, are reprinted for the benefit of contestants who may not have seen them:

1. Book Game answers do not have to be submitted before Saturday, September 14. None will be checked or judged before that date, so there is no advantage in getting them in early.

2. Please arrange your pictures and answer blanks in numerical order, placing No. 1 first or on top. Do not crease or roll them, if available.

3. Be sure that your set consists of the entire series of 80 pictures and answer blanks. Sets that have more or less than that number will be rejected.

4. Be sure that your name and address appear on each answer blank, in the spaces provided for that purpose.

5. Be sure that you haven't written more than one title on any one answer blank.

6. Be sure that your solutions are reasonable. If you're undecided between two or more titles for any of the pictures, remember the liberal rules permit contestants to turn in extra sets containing alternative choices.

7. Remember that all titles must be chosen from "What To Read," by Richmond Knight, as provided in the rules. Titles not found in "What To Read" will not be considered by the judges.

8. Remember that duplicate pictures and answer blanks may be obtained at Book Game headquarters, and by mail. Pictures from No. 1 through No. 12 are free. Pictures beyond No. 12 are 5 cents apiece when bought singly. Any 8 pictures are 30 cents, 40 pictures $1.25, and the full set of 80 pictures $2.00. Mail orders for picture sets include 3 cents extra for postage. If first-class mailing is desired, allow 3 cents for each 15 pictures ordered, or 15 cents for a full set of 80 pictures. First class mailing, of course, insures speedier delivery.

9. Now that the last picture of the series, No. 80, has been published, contestants may bring their sets to Book Game headquarters in The Constitution building, Alabama and Forsyth streets, or mail them in. Sets that are submitted by mail should be addressed to: Book Game Department, The Atlanta Constitution, Atlanta, Ga., and they must bear a postmark date of not later than Saturday, September 14.

10. Sets, regardless of the kind of envelope or wrapper used, must bear first-class postage when sent through the mails. They may not be sent by parcel post or under any other classification. First class mail deposited in Atlanta for delivery to The Constitution is carried for 2 cents an ounce; first-class mail posted beyond Atlanta for delivery to The Constitution is carried for 3 cents an ounce. If you're in doubt about the weight of your envelope or package and the amount of postage required, consult your postmaster. Sets that bear insufficient postage will be returned to the senders.

Wheels take a holiday...

What a joyous and significant phrase that is! For many months the WHEELS OF INDUSTRY have HAD to stop and not start again.

But today wheels only take a brief holiday... a second-wind, so to speak! It means... labor is winning its long struggle toward the upward turn. It means... the wheels have paused only to revolve again with greater momentum and power than ever before.

We are proud of our 68 years of association with the forces of Labor. Together we have striven for civic and commercial progress for a greater and more prosperous South.

Our ideals of the past and our hopes for the future are mutual. We, as an institution... wish to add our sincere tribute to the skill, intelligence and triumphant courage of a valued friend.

Our SALUTE to the valiant Hosts of LABOR!

Atlanta Belles Invited To Attend Charity Ball in Chattanooga, Tenn.

By Sally Forth.

ATLANTA will be well represented the week-end of September 13 in Chattanooga by pretty Frances Lyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lyle. Frances leaves on Friday for the Tennessee city to act as a maid-of-honor in the queen's court at the charity ball to be given by the Woman's Press Club of Chattanooga for the benefit of the T. C. Thompson Crippled Children's Home.

In addition to Frances, Louise Calhoun and Ellen Fleming have also been invited to attend, and with other visiting belles will be chaperoned at the Signal Mountain hotel by Mrs. Stacy E. Hill. There will be nine Chattanooga debbies in the court in addition to the Atlanta and other visiting belles.

And speaking of debutantes, Sally has been informed that Frances Lyle will be numbered among the charming young buds to be presented to Atlanta society this fall. An only daughter, she possesses a winsome manner, brilliant beauty and a charming personality. Her black hair and dark eyes are combined with fair complexion and she has a decided flair for wearing clothes. She attended Washington Seminary where she was a member of the O. B. X. Club and later attended the fashionable Temple school in New York last year.

Her decision to make her formal bow to Atlanta society occasions widespread interest and during the season she will be honored at a series of delightful parties given in her honor. She is a representative of distinguished southern forebears which is evidenced by her lovely manner. As mentioned above, Frances is an only daughter and her brother, John, completes the family foursome residing on Brookhaven drive.

HE IS the son of a prominent county official, and she is the daughter of a prominent doctor in a small Georgia town. Their romance began when both attended the state university at Athens, where they were popular and prominent in social affairs.

She had one of the highest social honors at the university bestowed upon her, when she was invited to lead the military ball, which she did with the greatest charm and grace. He is a handsome blonde, and she is a beautiful brunette. The wedding is to take place some time this fall.

Class Picnic.

The Theophilus Class of the First Baptist church, in Hapeville, will have a picnic at Oakland City park, on Thursday evening. Members, both regular and honorary, are invited to attend and to bring their families and a basket lunch.

Culbertson on Contract

By ELY CULBERTSON.
World's Champion and Greatest Card Analyst.

The Test of Stoicism.

It takes a stoic nature to bear the fate that sends poor cards—but it takes more than stoicism to withstand the slings of an outrageous fortune that provides good cards with which disaster is inevitable. No one likes an unpleasant loss, but when a hand is dealt, the logical contract and amount of skill can that contract be made, the unfortunate player is entitled to a squawk—and seek the sympathy of his opponents. In fact, one would be in favor of a special bonus of 100 points to be awarded to one side on any hand which even the opponents agree is really a stroke of evil fortune.

The hand below is one which would surely qualify.

The bidding:
South West North East
Pass 2♠ Pass 3♠
Pass 3♠ Pass 4♠
Pass 4♠ Pass 5♠
Pass Pass Pass

There can be no fault to find with the bidding. West was conservative enough in bidding only six hearts—I think most players would discount the possibility of losing even a single trick played at partner's best suit, and would have bid for the greater rewards of the grand slam. East, with four plus honor-tricks, marked partner with two solid, or nearly solid suits, and to insure against a bad break in either of them, as well as a possible first round ruff, bid the grand slam in notrump.

The Play.

With all four suits, South made the one opening lead which appeared most likely to sacrifice a trick—the spade. Against a small slam contract, aggressive leads are to be preferred, but where only one trick is required to defeat the contract, a safe lead is generally preferable to one which may lose a trick. South could hardly have foreseen just how devastating his lead would prove, but some credit must be given him for his selection.

A heart split or the drop of the jack would have made the slam a lay-down. A club or diamond opening would have given East more than enough tricks on which to discard West's three heart losers; but as the cards lay, with fourteen winning cards in the combined hands, declarer could not make more than twelve.

Even the 100 point "hard luck" bonus I proposed could not begin to compensate for a fate so calamitous.

Bread and Butter Pickles Are Called "Yum Yum" by Josephine.

By FLORENCE La GANKE.

Josephine was the newest bride in the neighborhood. She had known many of the women before she and her husband moved onto the street. That made her feel less strange and forlorn. Among other things the neighbors had done for her was the preparation of a card file of all the family recipes. Whenever Josephine wanted to make something especially nice to please her husband she would look over the cards. It was while looking them over one day in search of a recipe for peach ice cream that she came across bread and butter pickles. They sounded so good that she decided right then and there to make some. She found a footnote on the recipe saying, "These are crisp and fresh tasting. They are not hard to make." She liked the sound of this and started making the pickles.

The recipe read as follows: Wash six quarts fairly large, ripe cucumbers. Slice but do not peel. Add one quart onions sliced, four large green peppers cut fine. Make a brine using one cup of salt to nine cups of water. Put the vegetables in this and let them stand over night. Drain. Mix six cups mild vinegar, six cups sugar, one teaspoon each of white celery seed and of mustard seed. Add one tablespoon turmeric. Add the cucumbers and bring the whole mixture to the boiling point, but do not let the contents of the kettle actually boil. Pour at once into hot clean jars and seal. The heating through, but not actually boiling, preserves the fresh flavor of the pickle. More sliced onion may be used if desired.

Lines flatter larger figures.

Most matrons—and others too, will love this cool smart cotton print dress. It is tailored, yet so utterly feminine looking. Its likable frilled trim banded collar merges into a vest effect that extends below the waistline, so flattering and length-giving. The frill is finished with picot-edge (done professionally.) Lilac batiste, white and white dotted voile, pale blue eyelet batiste, etc., are other nice mediums.

Style No. 853 is designed for sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48 inches bust. Size 36 requires 3 1/4 yards of 30-inch material with 1 1/4 yard of 30-inch contrasting.

Ellis Roofing Co. Head Stresses Economic Value of "Tite-on" Shingles

FINANCING OF JOBS EASILY ARRANGED

Full Inspection Service and Estimates Provided
Free for Home Owners.

A substantial increase in business during the summer months is reported by the Ellis Roofing Company, due in a large measure, according to Robert P. Ellis, its head, to the fact property owners have been shown the terribly damaging effects of winter rain and cold, followed by extreme summer heat.

In order to fully appreciate this effect, Mr. Ellis states, it is necessary to understand that, in an old roof, or in one which is "loaded," the top layer of asphalt begins to dry out and permit the mineral surfacing to wash and blow off. When this drying out begins, the saturating asphalt in the felt is permitted to dry out rapidly, leaving the felt very much like a piece of blotting paper, allowing dampness to seep into the roof timbers and do a great deal of damage before the owner realizes it.

The Ellis Roofing Company offers a free roof inspection service, and if repairs or re-roofing is found necessary will submit estimates without obligation. For re-roofing purposes, the company features the popular Genuine Rubberoid "Tite-on" shingles which Mr. Ellis declares to be the greatest roofing value obtainable. The "Tite-on," made of the highest grade materials and produced by the most approved manufacturing methods, is designed especially for re-roofing over old wood shingles.

Each "Tite-on" shingle is fastened in place with four zinc-coated, rust-proof nails in addition to two locks, which are placed under the adjoining shingles in a natural position and protected from the weather. These locks are so designed as to allow for expansion and contraction, but there are no slots, nor metal strips, nor folded corners. The lock is so secure

Famous Kroehler Creations Feature Sterchi Offerings

The above photo shows the second carload of fine Kroehler living room suites to be unloaded for Sterchi's within the last month, being moved from its car in the Atlanta freight yards. The Sterchi store at 116-120, Whitehall street carries a complete line of these famous suites on its floors, in addition to other notable lines, such as Pullman, Valentine-Seaver and Delker. Among the new designs attracting considerable interest among Georgia home owners are the new moderne living room creations by Kroehler. These pieces, which are patterned in the striking twentieth century manner, are presented in a wide range of upholstery fabrics. Another new creation which is being readily accepted by style-conscious buyers is the new Kroehler Davenport-Bed. While presenting the appearance of a smart sofa for day use, this creation easily converts into a luxurious bed for night use.

that it is unnecessary to tie the shingles to each other with extra metal clips such as have to be used with so many of the less secure types of shingles now on the market.

Another outstanding feature of the "Tite-on" is the fact it is so designed that it cannot be laid in any manner except that intended by the manufacturer. It is impossible to give less head-lap than the manufacturer specifies, while a great many of the shingles on the market permit the roofer to "slip" or "stretch" them, thereby enabling the contractor to give a much lower price for the job and to sacrifice safety—a factor which the owner knows nothing about until

TRIO MATTRESS CO. URGES RENOVATION

One-Day Service Offered
Atlanta Householders to Prevent Inconvenience.

Householders who are moving this week, as well as those who have decided to remain for another year in their present apartments or homes, may gain a "fresh start" by investigating and availing themselves of the one-day service offered by the Trio Mattress Company, 638 Wells street, southwest.

This company, the oldest mattress renovating concern in Atlanta, is equipped to render a swift and efficient service in the renovation, renewal or rebuilding of every type of mattress and for the manufacture of cotton and inner-spring mattresses. This highly specialized service, declares James C. Meaders, proprietor and lifelong expert in mattress work, covers everything in the bedding line, including the reworking of studio couches and the renovation or manufacture of pillows and cushions.

Mr. Meaders calls special attention to the Trio Mattress Company's one-day service. "Householders need not do without their mattresses for a single night," he states. "Mattresses to be renovated in our plant may be picked up in the morning and returned the same afternoon, ready for use. This precludes any inconvenience to the householder or any member of his or her family."

All work of the Trio Mattress Company is guaranteed, and entire satisfaction is assured on every job. The company's high standards of workmanship have long been known, and constitute the basis for its favorable reputation with Atlanta householders. Through the many years since its establishment, the Trio Mattress Company has rendered a highly satisfactory service to Atlantans.

In addition to its work for householders, the Trio Mattress Company handles a large volume of business for furniture establishments, hotels and other institutions—a further tribute to its excellent workmanship. Atlantans, especially those contemplating moving this month, are invited to call the Trio Mattress Company and to investigate its service.

der the Better Housing plan and paid for in from one to three years, with out any cash down payment, through the Rubberoid Company's local financing organization.

The Ellis Roofing Company's sales staff includes W. E. Sims, A. A. Watson, S. P. Lee and T. A. Jeffers, who join Mr. Ellis in his invitation to home-owners to investigate its roofing products.

Imperial Body Works Equipped To Render Complete One-Shop Auto Repair Service

Here is shown a part of the interior of the Imperial Body Works' spacious daylight plant at 17 Piedmont avenue, housing its metal, mechanical and alignment departments.

One-shop service—covering all types of automobile metal and body work, frame, axle and wheel aligning, painting, upholstery, mechanical repairs and other phases of automotive maintenance—is provided by the Imperial Body Works, which maintains spacious, skylighted shops at 17 and 24 Piedmont avenue.

Many hundreds of Atlanta automobile owners, declares C. M. Bowden, proprietor, have learned—and others are learning daily—of the highly specialized service rendered by the Imperial Body Works, and are bringing their cars to its shops, where they are assured of workmanship of the highest type.

The Imperial Body Works' shops are manned by craftsmen of long and thorough experience in their lines, and equipped with the most modern and approved machinery and tools for the execution of every job. In the metal department, for example, the staff is composed of men with a knowledge of true "art" in designing and shaping metal, and in restoring dented bodies and crushed fenders to their original shape. This department is nation under Mr. Bowden's personal supervision, and no car is permitted to leave the shop out of perfect alignment. Motorists are invited to visit the Imperial Body Works shops and to inspect its splendid facilities for the correction of automotive ills. They will find here a plant wholly capable of meeting their needs, without the necessity for any job or part of a job being done elsewhere.

Labor Saving Works. Machines are a form of labor saving; assiduity should be pronounced to rhyme with liquidity; noisome means loud or noisy; factum relates to compulsion. These are not the classroom "boners" of children, but the answers of masters and teachers of art, seeking teaching jobs, to the Board of Education examiners, in New York.

Modern and expensive equipment and experienced craftsmen will be found in the frame, front axle and wheel aligning department. Here every car is subjected to a rigid examination under Mr. Bowden's personal supervision, and no car is permitted

PADGETT DIRECTS PATTILLO'S SALES

General Manager Milam
Is Optimistic Over Outlook for the Future.

The Pattillo Lumber Company, through its general manager, C. D. Milam, has announced the appointment of Ben H. Padgett to its staff as sales manager.

Mr. Padgett, for the past 30 years, has been actively identified with Atlanta's growth, having built many of the city's most beautiful homes, apartment houses and store structures, as well as having developed many new areas a real estate operator, notable Virginia-Highlands.

A charter member of the Druid Hills Baptist church and as a Shriner, one of the earlier members of Yarnab temple, Mr. Padgett has long taken an active interest in civic, religious and fraternal affairs. He has long been active in Boy Scout work.

"Business conditions and the future outlook have so improved in the building trades," says Mr. Milam, "that the Pattillo Lumber Company has found it necessary to increase its facilities to care for its increased sales volume. In this, the policies the company has maintained through the past two decades, as to prices, quality of goods and service, toward its customers, and patrons, will be continued."

It is the Pattillo Lumber Company's objective, Mr. Milam points out, to serve the public by furnishing it with every kind of building material necessary for any building operation, from brick, lime and cement to the finished mill work, paints and hardware.

The company maintains an information department, which will assist the customer in obtaining the proper list of materials needed, and also aid in obtaining the best financing arrangement on loans.

"We are so grateful," says Mr. Milam, "for the line patronage we are receiving, that we are striving to make our organization a more friendly and dependable one, for those in need of building material of every kind that goes into a construction job."
